Stephen M. Leshner Dies Suddenly on the Steamer Nueces.

The Ranch Owner a Passenger on the Mallory Line Nueces.

The steamer Nueces, of the Mallory line, arrived this morning, having on board the body of Stephen M. Leshner, a passenger, who was found dead in his berth Sunday morning. According to the report of the officer, the man died from an overdose of morphine.

The Nueces sailed from Galveston, Tex., a week ago today. Capt. Kirk says that Mr. Leshner was sick on the trip from Galveston to Key West, but when the latter port was reached he showed signs of recuperation.

Sunday morning, just after the vessel left Key West for New York, Mr. Leshner was found dead in his berth. He had retired at 11 o'clock the previous night apparently in good health and spirits.

He was an inveterate cigarette-smoker, and 200 cigarettes were found in his stateroom. No one on board, however, had any knowledge of Mr. Leshner using morphine or had any in his possession.

Mr. Leshner was the eldest son of Stephen R. Leshner, of the dry-goods firm of Leshner & Whitman, 502 Broadway. His brother, A. L. Leshner, who was at the dock to look after the removal of the body, said to an Evening World reporter:

"My brother went to Texas about four years ago to try to make a ranch. His health was not good. He was living on a ranch in Coleman County, Tex., where he met with an accident about three months ago which probably had not a little to do with his death."

"The body lay in his berth for some time before it was found. I do not know whether he used any morphine to allay his pain, but I do not believe that he died from any such cause."

"I think that his sudden death was due to weakness, and that it came while he was asleep, and his will was dormant. It is shown that an overdose of morphine killed his flesh must have been due to his long-continued condition. He was thirty-four years old and unmarried."

Mr. Leshner was a passenger on the steamer Nueces, which was bound for New York, when he died. The steamer was bound for New York, when he died.

The funeral will be held from the Leshner residence at 330 Madison avenue.

MANY GAY WOMEN IN COURT.

Biggest Raid Ever Made on the Tenderloin's Finest.

One hundred and thirty-two young women, inmates of thirteen disorderly houses raided last night in the Tenderloin district by Capt. McLaughlin, were assigned this morning in Jefferson Market court.

Many of the women were richly dressed. A few looked quite refined. Some of those who had been released on bail last night came to the court this morning in carriages.

The houses raided were the following: 139 West Twenty-third street, the proprietress of which gave her name as a name Sherman; 119 West Twenty-ninth street, Lou Rogers, proprietress; 119 West Twenty-sixth street, Hattie Jacobs, proprietress; 103 West Twenty-eighth street, Adelle Shaw, proprietress; 129 West Twenty-ninth street, Ruby Brown, proprietress; 138 West Thirty-second street, Josephine Ripley, proprietress; 138 West Twenty-ninth street, Florence Miller, proprietress; 172 West Thirty-second street, "Dandy Jack" Smith, proprietor; 141 West Twenty-fourth street, Mary Martin, proprietress; 143 West Twenty-fourth street, Bertha Lou or Lampier, proprietress; 143 West Third street, Irene King, proprietress; 143 West Third street, Lena Austin, proprietress; 143 West Third street, Blanche Valotte, proprietress; 88 East Thirty-second street, Annie Bates, proprietress; and 107 West Twenty-second street, Annie Howard, proprietress.

Some male habitués were arrested and were this morning arraigned in court. The proprietresses were held in $500 bail each for arraignment on Monday. The women were also put in $500 bail for arraignment on Monday.

All the other prisoners, except the inmates of Madame Sherman's house, were discharged. The inmates of the latter place, 139 West Twenty-third street, were fined $5 each. John Russell, a seventeen-year-old boy with light-colored hair, also arrested at this house, was sent to the island for six months.

Capt. McLaughlin says that this was the biggest raid made in the Tenderloin district for years. The houses were conducted in a refined way and were patronized by rich and influential persons.

DID NOT "HOLD UP" THE TRAIN.

Alleged Robbers on the Hudson River Road Only Stole a Ride.

Eight or nine laborers yesterday afternoon boarded a freight train at Spouton, N. Y. The train did not stop at Fort Washington, where they apparently wanted to get off.

Near Fort Washington the men put on the brakes, stopping the cars. Before jumping off the men pulled out a coupling pin and two of the cars became uncoupled. The conductor and brakemen started to look for them and they disappeared in the woods.

Inspector Smith said this morning that there was no attempt to "hold up" the train. The men wanted was to get a free ride from Spouton to Fort Washington.

COMMENTS THE JURY.

Judge Ingraham Says Crime Can Be Punished in New York.

In dismissing the petit jurors in the court of Oyer and Terminer for the term to-day Judge Ingraham warmly commended their work.

"It has been said by some that the jury system is a failure," he said, "but the work done by you shows that crime can be punished in New York, and that juries can be found to convict criminals."

The extraordinary Grand Jury were dismissed this morning, by Judge Ingraham, until next Tuesday.

WEBSTER'S TRIAL OFF AGAIN.

Dr. Austin Flint Says He Isn't Shamming, but Sick.

The Much Delayed Case to Be Retried Sept. 20.

The trial of Burton C. Webster for killing Charles E. Goodwin was today postponed to Sept. 20, when it will take place before Justice Ingraham, in the court of Oyer and Terminer.

This step was decided upon by Justice Ingraham today on the receipt of a report from Dr. Austin Flint, who was appointed by the court to examine Webster at the Tombs to determine whether he was shamming or was really ill. Dr. Flint says:

"I made last evening at the Tombs, in obedience to your request, an examination of the physical conditions of Burton C. Webster. The symptoms, objective and subjective, are entirely characteristic of an attack of acute dysentery of moderate severity, apparently in the fourth or fifth day. The only signs that the attack is more than ordinarily severe are the condition of the pulse, 120 to the minute, and general weakness, which is rather unusually pronounced at this stage of the disease."

"In my opinion, with proper hygienic surroundings and judicious treatment, recovery would take place in seven to fourteen days; but the history and condition of the patient convince me beyond that time. Although my visit was not unexpected by Webster, it is impossible to say whether or not he was in any way influenced by it."

"While his condition in court would probably not endanger his life or bring on a relapse, it would certainly aggravate his disease, and his attendance at present is substantially impracticable. He will not be able to appear in court for at least ten days, and perhaps longer."

AGAINST THE REV. TOM DIXON.

Justice Grady Decides to Hold the Fiery Pastor for Trial.

Justice Grady at the Jefferson Market Court this morning rendered his long-expected decision in the case of the Rev. Thomas Dixon, Jr., pastor of the Twenty-third Street Baptist Church, who was charged by Excise Commissioner Koch with criminal libel. The alleged offense consisted in a statement made by Mr. Dixon in the course of a sermon in his church on May 19 last.

AMONG THE PAYER FOLK.

Mr. Fred Solomon and His Kind Bostonese Critic.

A Horde of Actors Await Charles Frohman's Return.

Fred Solomon, whose tender cuticle invariably blisters beneath the lance of adverse criticism, is happy at last. Boston likes him, and he takes the trouble to send the following remarks about his work in "Puritans" to THE EVENING WORLD, which has endeavored to obtain a special space as far as the criticism of his work is concerned.

"That admirable comedian, Mr. Fred Solomon, deserves a large measure of praise. When so true a singer, so naturally and unaffectedly funny a comedian, and so well equipped an actor, with all the care of stage management added to his own difficult assumption, never does, but to his house, and yet every night adds some quaint or comical touch to his assumption, that artist is to be highly commended." Thanks, awfully, Mr. Fred Solomon. When once the somewhat questionable English of the remarks has been fattened they will undoubtedly prove valuable.

Peg Woffington is dead. This doesn't sound new, but it is. Peg was Roland Reed's pet dog, the mother of four or five charming puppies, and Peg expired very tragically. The comedian was greatly attached to her, and he had a vacant lot, adjoining his house in One Hundred and Twenty-second street, for her special benefit. Poor Woffington, however, allied and sickened, and Mr. Reed—crucial to be kind—was obliged to poison her. He is inconsolable. Few human beings are more sincerely mourned.

A three-act comic opera called "Mahana," by Christian Bach and Emanuel Tausig, was tried orchestra at the Standard Theatre yesterday. Exactly what it was tried nobody knows. The music was probably a little frightened of producing comic opera, and it broke it gently under. So the music was adopted. It is not, however, an easy matter to make a comic opera out of a serious one. "Mahana," appeared to please its hearers. May be they were so thankful that they were prepared to like the music, anyway.

Ramsey Morris wishes it known that he does not intend to star in the new play "The Millionaire" at the Standard Theatre. He will play the parts for which he is best known, and he will not play the parts for which he is not known. He is a good thing to know, on such excellent authority.

Miss Dorothy Ford is expected back in New York today on the city of Paris. Miss Ford, who was once a member of August Daly's company, and who was chosen by Charles Frohman as a typical representative of Mrs. Daly, has been in London for two years. The critics have given her plenty of praise, and she has been a great success. Her last appearance was in "Stratford," at the Princess Theatre, London. The piece, it is said, came to a very successful end.

Scores of actors are eagerly awaiting the arrival of Charles Frohman to-day. Before leaving for Europe he said something indelicately to a regular army of theaters: "I shall have work for you when I return!" And the city of Paris is expected impatiently.

It is said that there is a veritable scramble among musical artists in England to get to America, where Paderewski's success has been so great. The new wave of the next to appear will be a society violinist named Holman, and Johannes Wolf, "a Juicy Fellow," and "a Royal Favorite."
